教學流程 與心得	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The topic of the lesson is the evolution of communication from old days to modern times. 2. With the bold letters in every paragraph, it's very easy for students to find the communication way of different eras. Students need to fill in the blank on the time line of the evolution of communication. 3. Communication is an essential core system of our lives. We understand and percept the world through communication. Life would feel incomplete without interacting with others. The latest and modern ways are more convenient and efficient. Evolution of communication technology has made progress over hundreds of years. This evolution will continue to grow so with the changing world. Student can describe and draw their "communication invention" of the future in the open question. 4. I used the material to teach past tense of verb. It's an interesting and well-structured material for the 5th graders.
