One way in which men's and women's speech difference is in the practice of interrupting. Studies have shown that men interrupt women much more than they do other men, while women are less likely to interrupt either men or women. At business meetings, for example, men typically engage in "competitive turn-talking," or taking the opportunity by interrupting another speaker. Women, however, have been conditioned from childhood to believe that interrupting is impolite. Instead, they sit for hours waiting for a turn to speak, while their male colleagues wonder if they'll ever have anything to say. This not only demonstrates a gender difference in speaking, it also illustrates one of the reasons that men and women do not understand each other.

Studies have shown that men interrupt women much more than they do other people. Men are less likely to interrupt either men or women. At business meetings, for example, men tend to engage in "competitive" speaking, which is a way of speaking by interrupting others. Men have been called "interrupters" and it is believed that interrupting is a sign of dominance. When they sit for hours waiting for a turn to speak, while their male colleagues wonder if they'll ever have anything to say. This is not only demonstrates a gender difference in speaking, it also illustrates one of the reasons that men and women do not understand each other.

One way in which men's and women's speech difference is in the practice of interrupting. Studies have shown that men interrupt women much more than they do other men, while women are less likely to interrupt either men or women. At business meetings, for example, men typically engage in "competitive turn-taking" by interrupting the opportunity to speak by interrupting. Women, however, have been shown to be less likely to interrupt. It has been believed that interrupting is a sign of dominance. Men who sit for hours waiting for their colleagues to finish speaking, only to find their colleagues have nothing to say. This is not a sign of respect, but a gender difference in speaking, which also illustrates one of the reasons that men and women do not understand each other.

Clean vs Clear

- 就形容詞形態而言：

clean: 主要是指「乾淨、清潔、無毒、無菌、清廉、清白」

clear: 主要是指「清楚、清澈、晴朗、鮮明、嘹亮、暢通、確信」

- 舉例說明與對照：

- 1 clean water=乾淨的水，必須無毒無菌，卻未必要清澈<-->clear water=清澈的水，但未必無毒無菌
- 2 清湯要用clear soup，而不可以用clean soup
- 3 “給我一條乾淨的毛巾” =“Give me a clean towel”，此處，“乾淨的毛巾”不能用“clear towel”
- 4 “語音/聲音很清楚” =“The voice/ is very clear”，就是不能用clean；而“清楚的照片” =“a clear photo”，與“a clean photo”=“乾淨的照片”兩者的分別就和中文的差別一樣清楚，不需贅述。
- 5 a clear sky=晴朗的天空：雖然也可以指著clear sky說：“a clean sky”，但前者針是對“晴、無雲、無霧的視覺感受”而言，後者clean則意指“乾淨、無污染、無毒的衛生狀態”而言，兩者可能指向同樣的標的但出發點不同。

Clean vs Clear

- 就動詞形態而言：
- clean是針對消除「骯髒」而做的動作，而clear是為了取得空間而做的動作：
 - 1 clean the towel=洗淨毛巾， clear the towel from the basin=把毛巾從臉盆中除掉
 - 2 clean the table=把桌子(上的污穢)擦乾淨， clear the table=清空桌面(把桌上的東西通通移走)
 - 3 clear your mind=讓你自己頭腦清楚， clean your mind=別想些齷齪事
 - 4 clean the room=打掃房間， clear the the room=把房間騰出來
 - 5 clean the warehouse=打掃倉庫， clear the the warehouse=把倉庫清空
 - 6 清庫存=clear the stock而不能clean the stock
 - 7 clean the warehouse=打掃倉庫(不需要把倉庫內的物品清空)， clear the the warehouse=把倉庫清空(清空後未必要打掃乾淨)

四顆星文章欣賞

With the concept of equality between genders being widely accepted, doing housework is no longer women's responsibility.

Everyone living in the house should share the housework together because it is too tired to endure when there is only one of the family members taking the responsibility of doing housework. In my opinion, I think everyone in a family should take duty to do something for the house. In Taiwan, there are still some people consider that the housework should be done by women due to traditional concept. In addition, some people think that they cannot do the housework well, so they don't do housework to avoid making mistakes. However, I think the only thing they have to do is learning how to do.

In my family, everyone share the duty of doing housework. My mom cooks for us and washes the clothes, my brother does the dishes and takes out the garbage, and I mop the floors and clean up the table. Sometimes, I think it is exhausting when I do the housework after school. Nevertheless, I know that other members of my family are not easy as well. If I didn't do housework, others should finish it and get more job to do. Besides, I learn how to manage my time. Hence, I strongly suggest that everyone in family should take responsibility of doing housework.
