

省思與改進

It's never easy to try new teaching approach and at the same time keep up with the scheduling. Time is limited and yet, as technology advances, many innovative teaching platforms and technological supplements. I'm glad that I tried integrating ChatGPT in chart writing. As I saw my students intently engaged in class discussion, sharing the feedback from ChatGPT, and evaluating the feedback with critical thinking, I knew that I did the right thing. Despite some difficulty, the class overall was a success.
