

Reflection about My Class

Co-teaching with ETF is a great experience to me, and broadens our students' horizon as well. With the same teaching topic, the ways to show the class between Local English teacher and ETF are different. I enjoy the type of teaching because I am usually inspired with ETF or ETA's new idea. It takes lots of discussion before teaching, for example, we have to discuss our lesson plan and the details before the class, prepare teaching materials after discussion. During the classes, we have to collaborate to make sure the students know what we are doing and what they should do. Revising the lesson plan after each class to make sure our students understand what they should learn.

To co-teach with ETF, teachers can support our students more while they need help. The students won't expect ETF to speak or translate English into Chinese. In that way, it helps to achieve the whole English environment during English class. While ETF is the main teacher, the LET will take charge of the classroom rules. With calm and good class atmosphere, learning happens.

The instructions to our students takes more interactive activities or have them more chances to show the creativity because it's hard to have kids focus on classes nowadays. To make good use of sources on the Internet sometimes is helpful to our teaching and students' learning.
